THE LOOK OF PROFESSIONAL STAINLESS STEEL APPLIANCES CREATES SOPHISTICATED STYLE IN THE KITCHEN

Brewerton, NY – Frigo Design's Signature Series Stainless Steel Full Wrap Door Panel Sets the world's first conversion kit that transforms any make, model of refrigerator or dishwasher into an elegant stainless steel appliance.

Frigo Design engineers have created a sleek new design that literally allows a homeowner to slip a one piece stainless steel shell over the doors of their refrigerator or dishwasher. The result is a clean, smooth, endless finish that transitions from the front of the door to its sides with no seams – just like high-end appliances that cost thousands of dollars more. The look is very sophisticated, right down to the stylish curved handles.

Along with the door shell, Frigo Design manufactures panels to completely "wrap" any refrigerator's sides and top in matching stainless steel. Each panel is easily attached and fits perfectly around existing hardware on any make or model refrigerator. The new design eliminates the need for trim hardware, making it easy for homeowners to install in minutes.

"We were determined to produce a conversion kit that would give the same high quality look as the most expensive professional quality appliances right down to the designer handles," said Alan Isaacs, Vice President of Sales and Marketing for Frigo Design. "After trips across the country and to Europe, we saw that many people had refrigerators sized in the 20-cubic foot range and smaller to fit their homes and apartments, and they longed for the look of professional-grade appliances. After many attempts at the drawing board, we were able to produce our Signature Series."

Professional stainless steel refrigerators are far larger than the typical home refrigerator. The Signature Series immediately offers the freedom of choice to people living in apartments and condominiums where space limits the size of the refrigerator they may own. These new designs now offer the high-end, luxurious look of stainless steel on standard size appliances.

Additionally, stainless steel appliance sets are available in patterned designs that are embossed right into the metal. Choose from a wide variety of patterns, including V-Formation, Quilted Diamond, Hammered, Leather Grain, Striped, and Woven and many more eye-catching options. These striking styles can be used to create a contemporary look in any kitchen.

The latest innovation in Frigo Design's stainless steel appliance panels is its amazing Fingerprint-Less Real Stainless Steel. Through an exclusive process by Frigo Design, the surface does not and never will show fingerprints. And it cleans up easier than standard stainless steel by simply wiping with any household cleaner or warm water.

In addition to stainless steel, Frigo Design manufacture appliance sets that can transform the look of kitchen appliances with copper, real wood or more than 200 designer colors and finishes.

Frigo Design also is the leading manufacturer of custom-built Specialty Metal Countertops – stainless steel, copper, and brass – as well as backsplashes, vent hoods and floor and wall tiles.
